Mrs. J. O. Atkinson, of Wichita, Kansas, firmly believes that she would have been dead had it not been for Peruna and Manalin. She was very much out of sorts when her husband induced her to take these remedies. She had been sick for twentyfive years, more or less. As is usual a complication of diseases.

Of course a great many things had the account of her case that she received no particular benefit from anything that she tried. As her husband "Her case had baffled the skill of some of the most noted phy-

Home. Saves You $2.

This plan makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50. Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly axative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchial

The year has gone, and in a general way you all know that its record has been much as in former years. Few have visited the Home which has been have been in constant correspondence open for your inspection every weekwith her, and she has continued to day of the year, and which today looks praise Peruna and enjoy the best of in little better condition than it has each day since the last annual meeting. Repairs have been made as necessary. New floors have been laid in three of the dormitories, a new tub placed in the matron's bath-room, and considerable papering has been done. atmosphere of the whole house.

Needed Property Acquired. For many years your Secretary has emphasized the need of other quarters where children committed by the ourts might be received and cared for under the direction of the Home, long enough to ensure that they had no contagious or infectious diseases, nor were in any other way a menace to the health or morals of the large family in the Home. During this spring, at the request of the Commissioners, a committee from the Legislature looked over the situation, and recommended that the county be empowered to purchase adjacent property upon which an option had been obtained for the use of the Home. The county was so empowered and the property just east of and adjoining the land already held by the county was secured. This is a valuable addition to the Home plant, both in the quantity of excellent land and because of the fact that the cottage located near the street will meet the needs for a house of retention. Possession has only been obtained October 1st, so all repairs and improvements are yet to be made before it will be available. No one who has

General Health Excellent. Alhough there have been a dozen of the household has been excellent. The children have been examined, according to law, and pronounced free from tuberculosis, minor teeth trouhoused, clothed and fed.

Miss Gibson still labors unceasingly for the good of the Home and still retains the highest regard of the Board of Management. She it is who purchases all supplies for the house, except coal, who engages the helpers, management, as well as to the interest and generosity of the Commissioners, doubtless much of the good health of this large family and the lack of fricion in all departments, is largely due, The same teachers give their best energies to the training of the children, and Mr. Willard of the State Board of Education, sees to it that their work

Problems in Backward Children. One of the problems in the educaional department is to know how to deal with children so backward as to distinct detriment to normal children when the State School for feeble-minded is already over-crowded and the Home teachers taxed with the regular duties of a school made trying by the changing of the pupils.

The children have had fewer outings or pleasures of any kind than in recent years. Perhaps this report has given the idea that their wants were so well supplied that some have been afraid they would have too many of the things, which although not necessary, really help so much to make childhood happy period. After all these children have no real mothers to kiss away their hurts and woes, and they need a bit more attention from others on this account.

PLAINFIELD PASTOR MADE ELOQUENT ADDRESS

Rev. W. A. Keefe Delighted Hearers at Banquet at Waterbury.

Sheridan council, Knights of Columbus of Waterbury gave a banquet Monday evening at the Elton hotel to commemorate Columbus day. Among the speakers were Mayor-elect Martin Scully, Rev. John McGivney, state chaplain; State Deputy William J. Mulligan and State Lecturer Rev. William A. Keefe of Plainfield. Father Keefe was formerly a curate in St. Mary's parish, this city, and is an elo quent speaker. The Waterbury Rethus refers to Father Keefe's address: Rev. William Keefe of Plainfield delivered an eloquent oration on the heritage of the American Catholic cit-izen, pointing out that not only were the forefathers of American Catholics progressive and freedom loving but to the front in every line of human activity for the uplift of civilization of the new world. They have inherited it from their freedom loving fathers of the old world, the men whose names still shine foremost in the history of the European countries, whose deeds stood for liberty and righteousness. With this heritage, the knights of today, the American Catholics of day, could answer the criticisms of the prejudiced and the bigoted conclusively by citing the heroic sacrifices of American Catholics in defense of their country, in the uplift of its institutions and the improvement of its citizenship, whether, in the army or navy, they were called upon to bare their breasts to the foe, or in the halls of legislatures or on the benches of the courts to uphold its laws with equal rights for all.

wich, Had Been in Prison 37 Years. Dwight E. Steere, serving a life term at the state prison at Wethersfield, died at the institution Tuesday. The prisoner was 65 years old and registered No. 9 on the prison roll. He was sentenced after trial in the superior court here April 24, 1876, for the crime of murder in the second degree. Death was due to chronic nephritis. The body was taken in charge by relatives and sent to Oxford, Mass., for burial. Steere was found guilty of stabbing to death a man who came to this state with him from Worcester, Mass. The two went to New London, where Steere killed his companion on the dock. The body of the dead man was found on the dock next morning. When Steere was arrested the watch of his victim was found in his possession. The authorities were materially assisted by this face in the proving of Steere's guilt. Steere had been before the board of pardons a number of times for parden or for a parole. The board has always denied his petition.
